FACIAL EXPRESSIONS

FEBRUARY 22 & 23, $210

Expressions occur because the underlying muscles of the head move in a concerted way to convey a person's internal state. We will cover the six basic facial expressions: joy, anger, surprise, disgust, and sadness. Underlying anatomy will be introduced as well as how to convey the overall impression of these expressions. Great for portrait artist and animators.

DRAWING HANDS

MARCH 28 & 29 $210

Of all body parts, the hands are considered one of the most difficult. And yet, hands can convey narrative all on their own. Hands are indispensable to the gesture of larger portraits and to figure drawings. Students will learn how to shape the palm of the hand and how to conceptualize of the fingers in bigger blocks and rectangular solids. The outcome will be hands with believable structure and form.
